4th October 2017

Interception to Intelligence: Land and Sea.
Interactive workshop exploring the history of Bletchley Park and its influence in the Battle of the Atlantic

Dear friends,

The Maths Department is proposing to undertake a day trip to Bletchley Park on Wednesday 18th October 2017.

The trip is aimed at Year 10 students and those Y7 students who took part in the Enigma Day back in March. It is an enrichment activity that should further develop your interest in the work of Bletchley Park and codebreaking. There are eight places available to any person who attended the evening presentation as part of the Enigma Day.

The day will be a long one; you should be at school in time for a 6:45am departure and we expect to return at approximately 7:00pm.

The cost of the trip is £12 for the coach plus your admission fee.

Adults £17.75

Concessions (over 60s) £15.75

Children £10.50

Under 12s Free of charge.

The admission fee is paid on entry.

Having paid your entry fee you are most welcome to join the school group and take part in their tours and workshops but, equally, you are also free to explore the museum on your own.

Please let me have your £12 travel costs to reserve your place.

Should you have any queries regarding this visit, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely

Robert Heathcote
